Translation Connector

Fast, fully automated translations integrated into censhare with the world's best machine AI from DeepL and Google.

Translate your content from censhare fully automatically in seconds with the Translation Connector - whether it's a matter of product information, thousands of product texts or entire office documents.

You retain full control of the translation process at all times and save on costs for translation agencies. By using AI, the Translation Connector continuously learns to take your terminology into account to improve the translations on an ongoing basis. In combination with the censhare translation memory, you get results that will impress any native speaker!

Translations had never been so fast and simple – just see for yourself!

Benefits

- Translations in over 550 language combinations possible, including alignment of the censhare terminology memory

- Translation of extensive XML product texts, automated localization of asset names or asset attributes, all the way to entire documents

- Exceptionally high quality through machine translation with AI with transparent cost and character control

- Maximum data security through cutting-edge encryption technologies and guaranteed data deletion after translation
